1. Introduction

1.1. 'TTCM Traders Trust Capital Markets Limited', is a Cyprus Investment Firm incorporated under the laws of Cyprus, which has its principal place of business at 3 Thalia Street, Office Number 310-318, 3rd Floor, 3011, Limassol, Cyprus, and registered with the Registrar of Companies in Nicosia under number: HE 250591 (the "Company"). The Company is regulated as a Cyprus Investment Firm ('CIF') by the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission ('CySEC') under license number 107/09.

1.2. The Company is operating under Directive 2004/39/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 April 2004 on markets in financial instruments amending Council Directives 85/611/EEC and 93/6/EEC and Directive 2000/12/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council and repealing Council Directive 93/22/EEC, as the same may be in force from time to time and modified or amended from time to time (the "Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (2004/39/EC)" or "MiFID"), which was implemented in Cyprus by the Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets Law of 2007 (Law 144(I)/2007 of 26 October 2007) and Cyprus Law 106(I)/2009 of 23 October 2009, which provide for the provision of Investment Services, the exercise of Investment Activities, the operation of Regulated Markets and other related matters (the "Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets Law"), as the same may be modified and amended from time to time.

1.3. As such, the Company is required to comply with Directive 95/46/EC of 24 October 1995 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, Directive 2009/136/EC amending Directive 2002/22/EC on universal service and users' rights relating to electronic communications networks and services, Directive 2002/58/EC concerning the processing of personal data and the protection of privacy in the electronic communications sector, which has been implemented in Cyprus law by the Cyprus Law on the Processing of Personal Data (Protection of the Individual) of 23 November 2001, Law No. 138(I)/2001, as amended by the Cyprus Processing of Personal Data (Protection of the Individual) (Amending) Law of 2 May 2003, Law No. 37(I)/2003 and the Cyprus Processing of Personal Data (Protection of the Individual) (Amending) Law of 11 July 2012, Law No. 105(I)/2012, as the same may be in force from time to time and modified or amended from time to time (the "Personal Data Protection Legislation").

2. Right to Privacy

2.1. We respect each individual's right to privacy, we value our relationship with you, and we take pride in maintaining loyalty and respect with each individual client by providing you with privacy and security.

2.2. The provisions of this Cookies Policy and Disclosure apply to all Websites operated by the Company, (including the client area and all other panels and dashboards available under any of the domains operated by the Company) and explains how Cookies are placed on your computer, tablet and/or mobile telephone (a "device") in order to log information.

2.3. By using the Company's Website(s) you agree that 'Cookies' will be placed on your computer or device in accordance with the terms of this Cookies Policy and Disclosure. The Company's Cookies Policy and Disclosure provides users of the Company's Website(s) with information on which Cookies are set when you visit the Company's Website(s) and how to reject or delete those Cookies.

2.4. Users of the Company's Website(s) should also be familiar with the Company's Privacy Policy, in which this Cookies Policy and Disclosure is incorporated by reference.

2.5. PLEASE CAREFULLY READ THE COMPANY'S PRIVACY POLICY AND THIS COOKIES POLICY AND DISCLOSURE BEFORE USING ANY OF OUR WEBSITES.

3. What are Cookies?

3.1. Cookies are small text files of information that are stored in the Cookie file of the browser on your computer's hard disk when you first visit certain pages or perform certain actions on a website, or when you open certain e-mails. They can include any specific information you have entered into forms and the time and date of your visit. These Cookies cannot harm your computer or device, are anonymous and unique to the browser. Cookies are used to improve user experience, make the website work, enable Website security and provide the business with marketing information about the Website's visitors.

3.2. The Cookie text files comprise numbers and letters. The Cookie files are saved into special areas in the memory of your computer or mobile device. Cookies stored here are called 'session Cookies' with Cookies placed into the hard drive called 'persistent Cookies'.

4. What are Cookies Generally Used for?

4.1. Websites mainly use Cookies to:

- identify users;
- remember users' custom preferences;
- help users complete tasks without having to re-enter information when browsing from one page to another or when visiting the Website(s) later.

4.2. Cookies can also be used for online behavioural target advertising and to show adverts relevant to something that the user searched for in the past.

5. What are the Different Types of Cookies?

5.1. A Cookie can be classified by its lifespan and the domain to which it belongs. By lifespan, a Cookie is either:

TTCM Traders Trust Capital Markets Limited ("TTCM CY"), is a Cyprus Investment Firm incorporated under the laws of Cyprus, which has its principal place of business at 3 Thalia Street, Office Number 310-318, 3rd Floor, 3011, Limassol, Cyprus, and registered with the Registrar of Companies in Nicosia under number HE 250591. TTCM CY is regulated as a Cyprus Investment Firm ('CIF') by the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission ('CySEC') under license number 107/09 and operates in accordance with the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive ('MiFID II') of the European Union.

- A 'session Cookie', which is erased when the user closes the browser; these are temporary Cookies stored in your computer's memory only during your browsing sessions. They are automatically deleted from your computer when the browser is closed and can also become no longer accessible after the session has not been active for a specified length of time; or
- A 'persistent Cookie', which remains on the user's computer/device for a pre-defined period of time; these are Cookies that are stored on your equipment between browsing sessions and are not deleted when the browser is closed. In contrast to session Cookies, permanent Cookies can retain your preferences for a specific website, allowing those preferences to be used in your future browsing sessions.

5.2. As for the domain to which a Cookie belongs, there are either:

- 'first-party Cookies', which are set by the web server of the visited page and share the same domain;
- 'third-party Cookies' stored by a different domain to the visited page's domain; these are Cookies that belong to domains, different from the one shown the address bar. The web pages on that domain may feature content from a third-party domain (banners, adverts). This can happen when the webpage references a file, such as JavaScript, located outside its domain. Third-party Cookies are often allowed by a Web browser; however, they can be blocked if you wish to do so.

5.3. In addition to session Cookies, permanent, first-party and third-party Cookies, there may be other Cookies which are set by our Websites, in order to provide us or third-parties with important information. A description of such other Cookies is provided further in this Cookies Policy and Disclosure.

6. Legal and Regulatory Provisions Regarding the Use of Cookies

6.1. All of the Company's Websites must follow the guidelines on privacy and data protection set out in the General Data Protection Regulation, which requires prior informed consent for storage of/or access to information stored on the terminal equipment (computer, tablet and/or mobile telephone) of any user of the Company's Website(s) and imposes an obligation on the Company to ask users of its Website(s) if they agree to most Cookies and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, Flash Cookies, etc.) before its Website(s) start(s) to use them and to inform them that Cookies are not being used to gather information unnecessarily.

6.2. For such consent of the users of the Company's Website(s) regarding the use of Cookies to be valid, it must be informed, specific, freely given and must constitute a real indication of the individual's wishes.

6.3. However, some Cookies are exempt from this requirement. Consent is not required if the Cookie is:

- used for the sole purpose of carrying out the transmission of a communication; and

- strictly necessary in order for the provider of an information society service explicitly required by the user to provide that service.

6.4. Cookies that are clearly exempt from consent according to the EU Advisory Body on Data Protection (Opinion 04/2012 on Cookie Consent Exemption, adopted on 7 June 2012) include the following:

- ‘user-input Cookies’ (session-id) such as first-party Cookies to keep track of the user's input when filling online forms, shopping carts, etc., for the duration of a session or persistent Cookies limited to a few hours in some cases;
- ‘authentication Cookies’, to identify the user once he has logged in, for the duration of a session;
- ‘user-centric security Cookies’, used to detect authentication abuses, for a limited persistent duration;
- ‘multimedia content player Cookies’, used to store technical data to play back video or audio content, for the duration of a session;
- ‘load-balancing Cookies’, for the duration of session;
- ‘user-interface customisation Cookies’ such as language or font preferences, for the duration of a session (or slightly longer);
- ‘third-party social plug-in content-sharing Cookies’, for logged-in members of a social network.

7. Use of Cookies on The Company’s Website(s)

7.1. The Company’s Website(s) use(s) Cookies to provide the functionality you need to browse our Website(s) correctly. We use Cookies to enable you to improve your user experience when using our Website(s). The use of Cookies helps us maintain security and verify your details, which enables you to avoid re-entering your details each time you visit our Website(s). Cookies do not only help us recognise and remember you as a unique user when you return to our Website(s), but they also collect anonymous information for evaluation purposes to help us improve the structure of our website.

7.2. The Company’s Website(s) issue Cookies upon landing on our Website(s), unless the user has changed Cookie settings in their browser to refuse Cookies. Please note that with Cookies switched off, some areas of our Website(s) and services may not be available to you and that you may not be able to login with Cookies disabled. The Company supports social bookmarking and with Cookies disabled this functionality may not be available.

7.3. Other than as expressly disclosed in this Cookies Policy and Disclosure, the Company does not use Cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you; other than as expressly disclosed in this Cookies Policy and Disclosure, the Cookies we use only collect anonymous information to optimise our services and do not collect personal information.

7.4. Please note, however, that not all the Cookies on our Website(s) are set by us. Please see the Section above on ‘third party Cookies’.

8. Categories of Cookies Stored on Your Device When Browsing the Company’s Websites

8.1. The categories of Cookies stored on your device when browsing the Company’s Website(s) include the following:

- Essential Cookies: These Cookies are essential for the operation of our Website(s) (such as features and accessing secure areas of the Website(s)). Without these Cookies, certain options on our Website(s) may not be available. The essential Cookies are vital for us to use for the quality of our services to you.
- Performance Cookies: We utilise Cookies to analyse how our visitors use our websites and also to monitor website performance. These Cookies do not collect any information that identifies our visitors, but it is collected anonymously.
- Functionality Cookies/ Traffic Log Cookies: We use functionality/traffic log Cookies to identify which pages are being used and to allow us to remember your preferences and to provide enhanced or more personal features. These Cookies remember choices you make to improve your experience. This helps us analyse data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system. We use this information to understand, for example, the effectiveness of our advertising and marketing.
- Behavioural advertising Cookies (third party): We and third party advertisers use Cookies to serve you with advertisements that we believe are relevant to you and your interests. They also limit the number of times you see an advertisement and they help measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. These Cookies are used by targeted advertising services to collect information about your browser habits and to deliver advertisements more relevant to you. We may also use such Cookies to track campaigns from banner advertisements and opt-in emails. We may use third-party providers to help us determine which of our advertisements are most likely to be of interest to you. These providers may use behavioural information, such as how you navigate the internet, to provide relevant advertisements to you. We may also allow some of these companies to use tracking pixels. Tracking pixels may be used to collect and store information about visits to our Website(s), such as which pages you viewed and how long you spent on our Website(s), as well as the specific advertisement that you clicked to visit our Website(s). No personally identifiable information is stored on these Cookies or web pixels. The information reported to us is aggregated and anonymous. Where applicable, you can opt out of these behavioural advertising Cookies and continue your browsing on our Website(s).
